19:50:46 From Gerard to Everyone:

Global Warming

I often speak with Liberal Party parliamentarians about Global Warming. The way I usually mention this is: An American thinks that adding 2° to a 100°F hot day is negligible. An Australian thinks adding 2° to a 40°C hot day is problematic but manageable. But, of course, the average temperature of the Earth - Summer, winter, day, night, tropic and polar - is just 14°C. Adding 2°, or even 3° is very very serious. Yes, two or three volcanoes might add more CO2 to our atmosphere than our polluting engines, and we have had many times the CO2 that we currently have; but the rise in temperature may, or may not be, part of an 800 year cycle as Professor Pilmer suggests. The 'average' 2° really means 7 or 8° added to a hot part of the day in India which has suffered through 50°C maximums for many days of their 2022 summer; and areas like Shetland islands in northern Scotland are 3 or 4°C warmer, well, of course, making their residents' lives much more pleasant, at least, until sea levels rise come.

As well as possible sea level rise, we must reduce pollution in cities for the general health of the community; indeed when children of the politburo of China started to become ill, with pollution effects, only then did the Chinese government take some real action about pollution.

Fantastic Jo Jo! ❤️

19:56:18 From Julie Parker to Everyone:

Terrific, JoJO

19:56:21 From Gerard to Everyone:

The long-standing year-round ice at the North Pole has already melted, and reforms just a little during their winter. This is ice on water so its melt does not add to sea level rise. The ice of Antarctica and of Greenland, is ice on land, and ice on seabed. So, when this melts and slides into the ocean, sea levels rise. Antarctica & Greenland are about 6 million sq miles; the area of the oceans is about 120 million sq miles; about twenty times. so every metre of ice melted from across these areas adds about 5cm to all the oceans. The ice is about 2,000 m thick. So 5% is 100m, and this melt will add about 4 or 5 m to all sea-levels; just enough to reach the ankles of residents of canal estates; oh only twice a day at high tide. This melt is quite likely to be more than 5%; but not everything down south will melt; as even the planet Mercury still has some tiny form of an 'ice' cap. (If all the ice did melt, sea levels around the world would rise 60m.)

That 14° was in about 1970, and already 0.7° has been added. This is why we have increased rainfall, bigger localised flooding, rivers not coping with the water they would usually move, and, yes, some sea-level rise although very minor at present, and some increased ocean activity leading to land slips on the coasts, and the two hundred metre wide gap through the northern part of Bribie Island. With the next substantial 'storm' or mini-cyclone near Caloundra, most of Golden Beach and Pelican Waters will have inundation problems.

About ten years ago, I said to Jarrod Bleijie MLA for Kawana that the two-thousand-million-dollar Sunshine Coast Hospital should never have been built on land barely a metre above sea level; at the time he did not seem to care much about prospects of sea level rises, but understands a lot more now about the possibility of such. Later, Andrew Powell, our MLA here for Glasshouse, mentioned to me that Peter Beattie's Old Labor Government had bought that particular site, and not proceeded with a site near the University of the Sunshine Coast; the original proposed site near USC is about 20m or 30m above sea level.

19:56:59 From Gerard Clarke to Everyone:

What I would ask you to do, in your position of business owner, is to try to ensure that major investments by the business are always on land higher than 20m above sea level, really preferably 40m. And that all future land sub-divisions are in areas more than 20m above current 2022 sea levels.

Tasmania is the 'greenist' state in Australia, and the best performer at reducing greenhouse emissions. It rates as one of the very best areas in the whole World. TASMANIA HAS A LIBERAL PARTY GOVERNMENT. Liberals can do the best for the environment. Queensland's Labor Government and Victoria's Labor Government are the worst in Australia concerning both environment and state debt. Qld hides its state debt by saying government companies owe the money. Why The Greens Party support ALP is a mystery.

Trusting the above words might assist you. E.& O.E.

Kind regards

The Australian Constitution is only an agreement between the powers of the states and the new Commonwealth for 1.1.1901, or the first day of the 20th century. But there is no mention of the people, or rights of people, until 1966 referendum by Liberal Menzies and Liberal Holt recognized our original people.

Write me a song about freedom, some words you might use; fight for freedom, we are eagles not chickens, not slaves, give me liberty, die on knees in freedom, not standing up as a slave, freedom, passion, law, healing!

Verse 1:

I hear the sound of freedom ringing,
The battle cry of those who fought before,
They gave their lives so we could be singing,
Of the sweet taste of freedom and more.

Chorus:

We fight for freedom, we are eagles not chickens,
We will never bow down, we are not slaves,
Give me liberty or give me death,
I'd rather die on my knees in freedom's blaze.

Verse 2:

No longer will we stand as slaves,
We'll rise up and break these chains,
Freedom is the passion that ignites us,
We'll fight for it with all our strength.

Chorus:

We fight for freedom, we are eagles not chickens,
We will never bow down, we are not slaves,
Give me liberty or give me death,
I'd rather die on my knees in freedom's blaze.

Bridge:

The law of the land may try to bind us,
But we won't be held down,
Our healing will come f

I heard that the cows we're being already jabbed with mRNA in nsw and that some abattoirs will only accept animals which have had it. Not sure how true it is but I've started asking questions of the butchers

20:42:56 From Sharon, to Everyone:

My friend owns a canola farm in Finley and his son, his a cattle broker or something like that. No mRNA in cows as of current status.
