2008 Abortional Act

19:31:57 From Gerard to Everyone:

Dear Charles and Tony, and Cal,

Your discussion two weeks ago about 20 minute city, has already been reduced to become 15 minute cities.

The concept of a "compulsory" (where a permit is needed to go beyond) 15 minute city is abhorrent but the idea of being close is good.

(Especially as doctors, as well as constabulary, attempt to take driving licences from people, especially when they reach the age of 75.)

Instead of the article's implied huge buildings of strata title serfs, and rental-for-ever, a compact village of reasonably self sufficient people can be:

Houses with 4 m to 7 m frontages and 50m depth to rear lane, garage and vegetable fruit and chicken garden, with 15m long house near front of land, facing East, or near front facing West, and N-S streets. Each house has its own solar cells, or wind power, batteries, and most importantly, water tanks just below gutter and gravity feed to house. (Septic could work with a few provisions.) Each house has an office or a shop at the front, thus forming the walkable services and commercial hub of the village for everyone. Then add schools, in each village.

The compact villages or towns would be from 2,000 people to about 16,000 people and be about a km apart with intervening farms and some bushland and parks. Then add, hospital etc with one for each 4 or 5 villages.

If I get time, I will sketch the concepts for you.

Gerry

An update on AVN Australian Babies Court Case

"On Thursday, March 16th , the High Court of Australia – the peak dispenser of justice in Australia and the body where all appeals will ultimately turn as the court of final judgement, refused to look at the information in the Australian Babies Case.

They said that examining the more than 2,000 pages that made up our evidence – pages compiled by statisticians, top scientists, parents with vaccine-injured children and those who had suffered greatly because of illegal and immoral mandates – would be a poor use of their ‘resources’ so they kicked the ball back to the Federal Court. Though one battle has been lost, the war continues. Strategies and tactics are being discussed and more and more combatants are entering the fray every day."

Dear Lewis, and Fr Francis,

I have been thinking for some weeks about the message, and have this morning have written this. Fr Francis, your own message about Mt Tabor last week was an inspiration for me. And my own experience having bought a home when I was just 18 years old, back in 1969, and my degree in Property Economics & Development, has created a realisation about some of the messages of Jesus. I have managed to keep this below 500 words, at 486, but Easter is a big message.

Kind regards,

Gerard

Easter Approaches

As Easter approaches, let us reflect upon some words and actions of Jesus the Christ.

Luke 19:45: Then he entered the temple and began to drive out those who were selling things there; and he said, "It is written, 'My house shall be a house of prayer; but you have made it a den of robbers'. Other references refer to money-changers or banks. The word "mortgage" is two Latin words: "mort" death, and 'gage' chain, or chained till death. Jesus taught in synagogues with agreement of Jewish leaders, as well as teaching to the masses like the five thousand in the field, and Jesus did his great healing miracles.

Jesus had come to preach love, and a way to heaven, but he had also come to preach personal freedom and an end to debt-slavery. Just look today: due to banks and governments, the price of a capital-city inner-suburban small terrace house has risen from ten thousand dollars in 1970 to over a million in 2023; that is one hundred times the price for the same bricks-and-mortar-and-land in just half-a-life-time; for a home, a place of personal living. Maybe removing the 'money-sellers' from the temple is what really lead to the false accusations in the courts of Herod and Pilate.

Continues

21:26:11 From Gerard to Everyone:

On the day before he suffered, Jesus took bread, broke and blessed the bread, giving it to his apostles saying, Luke 21:14, "This is my body, which is given to you. Do this in remembrance of me." As Catholics, we understand that Christ is truly with us for the few minutes that we allow the holy host, his body, to sit in our mouth, after receiving communion at mass.

Back in September 2022, I had written about my own father's experience of walking in the footsteps of Jesus, where Jesus and Simon carried the cross: (Easter Friday, or 'Good Friday'). Since then, I had spoken with Andrew Wallace, our catholic federal parliamentarian and previous Speaker of the House, who has also has walked this path of Jesus.

In late November 2022, I wrote about The Transfiguration, the most important event in the life of Jesus which signified his divinity; and the eventual significance of Easter. Peter wrote: "conveyed by the Majestic Glory, 'This is my Son, my Beloved, with whom I am well pleased.' In 2015, our own priest in Caloundra Parish, Father Francis, visited this very Mt Tabor where this is now a large basilica, and, yes, café and giftshop. This might be the most important place for a Christian pilgrim.

Our Christian message is from Transfiguration to Carrying of Cross, then to the moment before he passed, where Jesus called out, "Father into your hands I commend my spirit".

Joseph from the town of Arimathea persuaded Pilate to allow the body of Jesus to be buried, with spices and ointments. Jesus rose on the Sunday, which we call Easter Sunday, in fulfillment of the Scriptures.
