In about June each year the World Liveability Index is published. The covid pandemic caused this to be delayed for a couple of years, then in 2023, Melbourne returned, and, this time Sydney is listed, in the top ten, as third and fourth. The others are interesting, with three in Canada, and one in NZ. The figures are hard to read, but the first figure is the main one.

No Country City Index Stability health culture educ infras

Simon Kuestenmacher, a demographer and founder of The Demographics Group, said the value of being high on the index is through global brand awareness.

GSC: This is mainly a comparison of government services. A major item which should be included is the level of home ownership, as this shows more independence and freedom for people. Sir Robert Menzies produced the highest level of "egalitarianism" ever for any country in World history when his policies resulted with 78% of all Australian families owning their own home, or in the process of paying off their own home, in the 1960's.

As his chart is World, great interest should be seen in the English countries of Australia, Canada and New Zealand having six cities within the eleven. Google said on 23.6.2023 that India has about 300 cities of a population of over a million each, while the world Atlas only says 46. China has about 102, both google and The World Atlas. There are probably 700 cities over or close to a million. So, having six cities as the most liveable in just three former English colonies is very significant.

REGARDING:- SV40 promotor in the Pfizer vaccine. SV40 causes cancer.

This link above to @Kevin_McKernan is 4 minutes @ the 1.22 second mark he discusses the expression vectors in the Pfizer vaccine. It has an SV40 promotor which is not in the documentation provided to the EMA.

SV40 is the virus that occurs naturally in the Resus Monkey and when combined with radiation causes cancer.

The Resus Monkey Kidneys were used to grow the polio virus for the original polio vaccine that we were given in the 1960's.

Hope this is helpful.

My friend is writing to the cruise line in NSW advising Covid mandates have been dropped by many companies such as Woolies and Coles. Also opportunity for cruise line to revise/update their Covid policy to be less restrictive and still have safety protocols e.g. RAT negative to cruise plus other safety hygiene measures. I gave my friend the Coles staff updated policy wording plus my ski lodge revised Covid policy wording, to share with cruise line. Opportunity to gain more income and not discriminatory policy for passengers. TBA

The increase in death (from all causes) during the last year of 2022 compared to 2021 was 40,908 deaths. Many analysts believe that these deaths were caused by the Covid vaccination program.

40,908 unexpected deaths in one year (2022) is equivalent to 233 Boeing 737-400 passenger jets crashing. That is equivalent to 4 - 5 such jets crashing EVERY WEEK.
