Dear Aldo,

Please find attached a response from the Minister for Emergency Services in relation to the representation that I made calling on her to abolish vaccine mandates for firefighters in Victoria.

Unfortunately, the response is disappointing, with the Minister essentially saying that mandates will not be lifted for now. She does however, understand that the Country Fire Authority and Fire Rescue Victoria are reviewing the vaccination requirements; there is still no certainty on this.

This still means that a number of firefighters will be barred from employment for the foreseeable future, with no certainty regarding when they might be able to return to their jobs.

I will continue to be a very strong advocate in this space, calling upon the State Government to abolish mandates for not just firefighters, but for everyone.

Please let me know if there is anything more that I can do to support you further.

Kind regards,

Dear Mr Crewther

Thank you for your email regarding vaccine mandates for firefighters in Victoria. Both the Country Fire Authority and Fire Rescue Victoria currently require their employees to be fully vaccinated (or an 'excepted persons' within the meaning of current public health advice). Both agencies have determined that these requirements are necessary to minimise health and safety risks, consistent with their obligations as employers under the Occupational Health and Safety Act 2004 (Vic). However, it is our understanding that both agencies are in the process of reviewing these requirements in consultation with their employees. Should you require further information, please contact Chris Stephenson, Deputy Commissioner at Emergency Management Victoria by email

christopher.stephenson@emv.vic.gov.au
We trust this information is of assistance.

IBAC calls for overhaul of planning laws following Operation Sandon
Property mogul John Woodman paid more than $1.5m to political figures and councillors to gain favourable planning decisions, a scathing report by the state's corruption watchdog has concluded.

Property developer John Woodman was the key focus on Operation Sandon.
Victoria

19:29:35 From Julie Parker to Everyone:

A scathing report by the Independent Broad-based Anti-Corruption Commission has called for a complete overhaul of planning and local government laws after its probe exposed a rotten culture that allowed cash to be exchanged for political access and favours.

Its four-year investigation, dubbed Operation Sandon, found Mr Woodman paid to access politicians, including Premier Daniel Andrews and senior ministers who were involved in planning decisions.

In a sign of Mr Woodman's influence, it was revealed Mr Andrews met with the developer on multiple occasions, and in 2019 asked a lobbyist to pass on his regret about a government decision to defer a decision on a planning matter that had impacted the developer.

The most critical findings related to two Casey Councillors, Sam Aziz and Geoff Ablett, who actively worked to help Mr Woodman and his clients get favourable planning decisions that were worth tens of million of dollars.

The two former mayors received more than $550,000 in cash or benefits from the developer and his related companies over the course of a decade, but repeatedly failed to declare conflicts of interest.

again being pushed by the globalists

20:08:19 From John and Tess to Everyone:

On the subject of corruption ... I wrote this to a friend today . The spirit lore of the tribes in this land is not even being taken into consideration by the Australian Gubberment . This agenda driven referendum is another page in the litany of synthesising everything alive , beautiful , organic , joyful , spiritual , natural and truthful . Clint gave us an insight into the the connections being made across this country by the respect shown between tribes of spirit lore the real lore men and women of the tribes will speak their own lore . Remember that the sole reason that this corporate gubberment (with an ABN #) wants the "voice" to pass is so that every indigenous man or woman in this land will become a corporate entity .

Many bills can be paid by cash at post offices.

20:09:11 From John and Tess to Everyone:

Yes so that then this appointed (paid off) corporate voice body will be used by our Gubberment as a poisoned chalice to extract $$$ revenue from everyone of us in this country . A bill of exchange has never been signed between the British colonial forces and the traditional custodians of this land . Until people can at least begin to see the similarity between a f#$@n Mcdonalds ad and an ad promoting the voice by some sporting icon will there be a significant shift towards awakening each Australian to their own creativity and power . The voice is a very very cunning deceptive tool that will backfire on this Gubberment as Australians begin to speak their truth
