while it's crucial to understand that, there is science that says that we must also look at positive outcomes. The power of prayer protects those who trust the higher power, if you trust you do not succumb to the BS. Solzhenitsyn comes to mind among many others. Not head in sand but faith that we will be protected from the nonsense coming from the elites. The elites do not know the real secret - otherwise they wouldn't keep us all in a constant state of fear and worry

Wow, this week was a massive one on The Aussie Wire, and a massive one around the world.

In fact the second half of this year has been quite exciting. I said at the end of 2022 that this year, 2023, would be the year when 'the pushback begins in earnest' and I think that's exactly what's happened.

That's not to say we're 'winning' yet, not at all, but I think it's clear the pushback is on, in many different forms in many different parts of the world.

Here in Australia we successfully defeated The Voice and have caused a delay in the Misinformation / Disinformation bill with the Australian people becoming more politically active than ever before.

New Zealand booted out the party responsible for their Covid lockdowns and the new government promptly announced they will NOT be signing up to the WHO pandemic treaty or IHR amendments.

19:54:41 From Charles V To Everyone:

We should withdraw from WHO and United Nations

19:54:48 From Julie Parker To Everyone:

Multiple European countries have also declared they won't sign, and it sets up the prospect of either the amendments failing (if more than 1/3 of member countries oppose them) OR the amendments passing ANYWAY (requiring support from 2/3 of countries) and then these countries who were opposed actually withdrawing from the WHO altogether... either way it goes it's a tantalising prospect.

Geert Wilders has been elected in Holland, Javier Milei in Argentina. These are two imperfect people (like we all are) but represent a dramatic shift in the priorities of their respective voting public, and gives me hope that we can see a similar shift in Australia if we keep pushing.

So this year has been amazing, no we're not winning yet but the pushback is most definitely gathering momentum.

@SONIA don't fall for the division that 'they' have created & keep perpetrating.

We shud not take sides... but be united against the common enemy.

It's NOT a genocide in Gaza . Israel bends over backwards to alert the population to leave the area , and Hamas stops them from going and uses children as human shields . This is the Palestine population , 75% of whom support Hamas , and are ecstatic at the news of atrocities committed in Israel IL and celebrate with great glee with songs and sweets . Sympathy for Palestine is largely sympathy for Hamas and barbarism .

@Bru, yes I understand and have that perspective also . But, as a refugee from the Holocaust I cannot keep silent at the reprehensible spread of Jew hatred and the lauding of Islamic jihad . Many of us in AUSTRALIA are naive and don't understand the history or the jihadist agenda .

People who complain about the 'genocide' in Gaza , but never said a word about what the terrorists did in Israel , brutal rapes and butchery, babies in ovens , kidnappings , dismembering people , torture and atrocities etc , are highly suspect in my opinion .
