An estate in fee simple denotes the maximum ownership in land that can be legally granted; it is the greatest possible aggregate of rights, powers, privileges and immunities available in land. The three hallmarks of the fee simple estate are that it is alienable, devisable and descendible.

Because Charles mentioned this 8.8.8 for Chines Peking Olympic Games about a year ago, I wrote this article on TIME and DATES, including this second paragraph on PEKING While Christians accept AD Anno Domini, these other faiths and the non-religious seem to accept our date system, but just change the term to CE or Common Era. So, we are fortunate that Our Lord, Jesus, became the centre of the World's time, when so easily the Chinese time, being the biggest economy for a thousand years (400-1400), or the Indian kalpa time, being the oldest time-unit, or R&R time, might have persevered.

The 8th of August 2008 was the start of the Olympic Games in China. This is 8.8.8 which is viewed as an important numerology date for the Chinese; but this is also an acceptance of Jesus Christ as the start of their numerology dates!! Astrology and true proper astronomy are a bit different as planetary movements are taken over to Christian dates; rather than this non-religious numerology starting then with the Christian dates.

From SA property glossary of terms...Fee Simple

The most common freehold estate granted by the Crown. An estate in fee simple is the greatest estate in land and is for practical purposes the equivalent to absolute ownership. Note, however, that in Australia, no person other than the Crown can 'own' land absolutely.

As well as looking at in fee simple, also look at the zoning because many councils take away the rights within your land by changing zoning. Often they change township zoning to farming, thus taking away your right to simply and easily build home!! This also drop the value of the land, so they have robbed you too. Up till the 1960's councils generally were responsible for building the roads and now estates have the roads built by the developers; so councils shirk their responsibly by stealing your rights by changing the zoning. People will have to start just building their own hut and challenging councils by saying it was the council's job, with land prior to about 1960, to build the road. And small septic system with about 300 sq m for out fall is all that is needed; even a latrine is enough. Water tanks should be only a metre deep, on 1.7m to 2 m stumps, so that water from roof gutter is stored just above use points in home, and pumps not needed. Have 8 to a dozen solar voltaic cells and be self sufficient.

19:39:34 From Gerard C to Everyone:

Have solar cells at an angle facing North of your latitude plus 20 degrees. Eg Melbourne 38 degrees plus 20, so they are angles at 58 degrees.

So yes CentreLink have lied to the Australian Administrative Tribunal and stated that my case for unemploy,ment benefits submitted in 22July and I wasked for a review Jan 2023 has not been reviewed. The local Centrelink printed off my letter asking for a review last week for me, which proves Centrelink is lying ...

AUSTRALIAN JOURNAL OF GENERAL PRACTICE

Should we now discuss possible COVID-19 vaccine negative effectiveness?

All this makes it plausible that the COVID-19 vaccines have always had an effectiveness that was very low, zero, or even negative, with inadequate methods allowing for a highly exaggerated effectiveness initially – an exaggeration that is lessened with time. It is, as Professor Tindle noted, possible that the vaccines could be causing immunosuppression. With the ubiquitousness of the vaccines, and the fact that some vaccine mandates are still in place, to say nothing of the upcoming Senate inquiry into excess mortality,
