I spoke at the Convention about making housing affordable. I said councils must honour making roads on housing estates in villages which were developed from about 1890 till 1970 when roads were council responsibility. These blocks have paid rates for often over a century and road should be provided. And these blocks be zoned back to township; many council officials have wrongly made them rural to try to avoid putting in the road. We will have blocks which people can build upon. And, with the 1975 building code in Qld, 60 sq m of house is enough, not 200 sq m like covenants demand on expensive new subdivisions. Id est, land for $10,000 and a house owner-built for about $50,000. Not a million bucks of bank mortgage (mort death, gage chained) Maybe just a small mortgage which can be paid over five or ten years. Gerry.

Susan Rice went back to her office and wrote an email to save her backside if things went pear shaped. If you want more I can elaborate further.
