Crossing the Delaware River.....turning the tide

2026-07-24 19:03:31 From Guy@StreakyBayFarAwayInTime to Everyone:

I forgot most of the 5 years of American History studies

2026-07-24 19:04:36 From Julie - Dental Business Mastery to Everyone:

Washington's army was exhausted, freezing and discouraged after a series of defeats. He planned a dangerous surprise attack on Hessian troops stationed at Trenton, New Jersey. During a fierce winter storm, approximately 2,400 soldiers crossed the ice-filled Delaware River, marched through sleet and snow, and attacked early the following morning.

The inspirational words most closely connected with the crossing were:

"Victory or Death."

This was Washington's password for the operation, not a public speech. The troops were also inspired by Thomas Paine's recently published words:

"These are the times that try men's souls."

The attack succeeded, with the Americans capturing around 900 Hessian soldiers. More importantly, the victory restored morale and helped save the American Revolution at a moment when it appeared close to collapse. It remains such a powerful story because Washington acted boldly when his people were exhausted, frightened and facing seemingly impossible odds.

Email sent just prior to this meeting NSW Health - Please find attached evidence showing that I have been falsely accused of multiple mental-health admissions to Canterbury Hospital, none of which ever occurred. This is workplace-generated misinformation, and it has been a significant source of stress and anxiety,

RE: Evidence I was never admitted to Canterbury Hospital except for chest pain

You have already seen the Canterbury Hospital Mental Health medical notes claiming an admission "presentation" at 03:04am on 18 Dec 2023.

1. The 25 June 2025 Medical Records cover letter confirms no such admission occurred.(attached)

2. The NCAT summons (attached 07.07.2025) states I was stood down as a registered nurse by the Nurses and Midwives Council based on a supposed 24 Dec 2024 mental-health admission. No such admission occurred — your records show you saw me on 10 Dec 2024.

3. Attached is my 23 Dec 2023 email fit-to-work MEDICAL CERTIFICATE, required by my workplace before I could return to duty on 24 Dec 2024.

a. On 24 Dec 2024, the rostered shift attended by me was 8am start, 8-hour shift in Blaxland.

At no time have I ever been admitted to a hospital of any type for mental-health reasons.

At no time has a trained medical professional advised that I attend a hospital for mental-health reasons.

Thank you for reviewing and documenting this.

Yours Sincerely,

Same in nursing.

According to my sources 1/3 of nurses have left the industry (in Australia) over covid. They are being replaced by grade one's from China, India, Africa etc. These overseas nurses come as part of an immigration package, visa, job all rolled together.

Some of these nurses may not actually have the qualifications they profess. I have friends with professional qualification who state some of these 'nurses' are unable to perform the most basic nursing tasks or even under why they are considered essential skills.

Standards have fallen dramatically in hospitals as result.

On a positive side I'd like to see more nurses set up their own businesses, become self employed and take more control over their work.

2026-07-24 20:28:12 From Gerry to Everyone:

I ran with the Old Xavierians in 1970 and 1971, mainly 800 m. In 1969 I did 2 min 3.2 sec for 800m, but five runners at Xavier did better than this! So they won the APS between twelve schools by about 200m in the 4 x 800m relay. Gerry. But in 1965, when 14, I jumped 18 feet 7 inches in long jump, or 5.5m. And 17ft 10in for the other two jumps. Gerry.

re water - there is an idea of "catching the red light" of the sun in purple bottles to help mitochondria. Anyone heard of this?

My brother uses it all the time. He is pale, has spent his life in the Australian sun and has multiple skin spots. He says any early skin cancers will 'fizz up' and then disappear. My brother swears by it. He also says it's not available via normal sources and you have to find a source.

John, good to hear from you at Scotch. I had some friends at Scotch mainly through the Victorian Junior Chess League. But many Scotch boys knew me, as from 1966 to 1969, most days I rode my push bike up Scotch Hill on Glenferrie Rd riding from Toorak to Xavier. Passed one tram most mornings, sometimes two, and, yes, much traffic too. Gerry.
